Foz do Almargem and Trafal Local Nature Reserve

The Classification Proposal and the Draft Regulation of the Foz do Almargem and Trafal Local Nature Reserve are in public consultation until August 17.

The future Local Reserve covers 135 hectares, on the coastline of the parish of Quarteira, and is one of the most important wetlands in the Algarve. This proposal follows on from the Algarve Wetlands Enhancement Study, prepared by the Almargem Association in 2018, which you can read in full here. For this local nature reserve to become a reality, the participation of as many people as possible is fundamental. Almargem has created a draft to help you in your participation, and that can be consulted here. Copy it, add what you want and submit your participation on the Participa portal.

Sagres Festival is just "around the corner"

This year, the programme for the Sagres Birdwatching & Nature Activities Festival will be available one month before entries open.

August 1 - you can check the programme
September 1 - online registration opens

Some of the new features include: Via Algarviana at sunrise, night walks (to see bats, insects and scorpions), raptor regurgitation analysis, bioacoustics workshops and even about the role of whales in climate regulation!

All the information can be consulted at www.birdwatchingsagres.com.

#AÚltimaGota_Algarve in Loulé

After being exhibited in Alcoutim, where it was inaugurated, the travelling exhibition #AÚltimaGota_Algarve will be in Loulé. Take the opportunity to learn more about water, such an important asset that it is essential to save, in an interactive exhibition that promises to leave no one indifferent.
